It gives me great pleasure to welcome you to the 2013 LFCCM

The promotion of new music for the liturgy lies at the very heart of the Festival, and this is once again writ large in 2013 programme. This takes many forms, including our call for scores, performances in services and concerts, pre-concert talks and seminars and especially through the inclusion of many premières and commissions.

The LFCCM has commissioned over 40 works since its inception in 2002, and I am delighted to be able to announce a further seven commissions for 2013. Having commissioned more works for organ in recent years we are building on this by commissioning Daniel Saleeb to write a work for William Whitehead's Orgelbüchlein project. A second work for organ, by Ed Hughes, in memory of Jonathan Harvey, will be premiered during a live broadcast of Choral Evensong on 15th May. The Festival commissions settings of the Magnificat & Nunc Dimittis in order to contribute to the Choral Evensong repertoire, and in 2013 we look forward to performing Philip Moore's St Pancras Canticles, which will receive their première on 15th May, alongside Ronald Corp's Preces & Responses, also commissioned by the 2013 LFCCM.

We have also commissioned a setting of the Missa Brevis by Nikolas Labrinakos to be performed on 12th May, and our rich array of commissions is completed by a new setting of the compline hymn Preserve us, O Lord, waking by Toby Young (13th May), and Richard Pantcheff's Ex ore innocentium (19th May).

Our highly successful Call for Scores, first launched in 2011, has attracted works from composers around the globe, and we are also proud to present world premières by Tim Ambler, Richard Arundel, Daniel Knaggs, Miriam Mackie, Ed McCauley, and Oscar Ridout; UK premières from Rachel de Vore Fogarty and Łukasz Urbaniak; and London premières by Ben Parry, Paul Burke and Alan Gibbs.

In past years the Festival has included birthday concerts for Diana Burrell, Jonathan Dove, Cecilia McDowall and Gabriel Jackson. In 2013 we are very pleased to celebrate the 70th birthday of Robin Holloway in a concert by UCL Chamber Choir at St Pancras Church on 17th May.

I should like to draw your attention to our two evening concerts. A concert given by Vox Turturis on 11th May will survey the wealth of music composed by Philip Moore, as he turns 70, and on 18th May Gregory Rose's esteemed Danse Macabre will receive its UK première.

Pre-concert talks are a particular feature of the Festival, and I look forward to listening to Philip Moore (11th May), Cecilia McDowall, Robin Holloway (17th May) and Gregory Rose (18th May).

The Festival fulfils its objectives through many long-standing and valued partnerships with the capital's world class choral foundations, and I should like to express my sincere thanks to directors of music, organists, chapters, clergy, composers, educational institutions and all those who contribute so significantly to the success of this event, and I should like to welcome new partners this year, including All Saints, Margaret Street, Christ Church, Chelsea, Hampstead Parish Church, St Gabriel's, Pimlico, St Magnus-the-Martyr, St Mary's, Eversholt Street, St Mary's Primrose Hill, and Westminster Central Hall.

The LFCCM enjoys the support of many of the UK's foremost composers and I am delighted to be able to announce that Judith Bingham and Roxanna Panufnik have joined our list of patrons.

I also wish to express my sincere thanks to those who provide the essential financial support to the LFCCM, including St Pancras PCC, PRSforMusic, the RVW trust, the Holst Foundation, the Thanet Street Trust and a number of private individuals.

I look forward to seeing you at the 2013 LFCCM
